

School Psychology Newsletter

December 16, 2015—January 12, 2016

Student Housekeeping

- All test kits and other borrowed materials MUST be returned to take inventory before the semester begins. If you have previously borrowed something and not signed it out, please let us know.
- If anyone has borrowed or is aware of the whereabouts of the Woodcock-Johnson IV—Cognitive Abilities Technical Manual from Kit #2, please let us know immediately. It needs to be returned to the test cabinets.
- Updated versions of the program policy handbook and timeline have been posted on the Forms and Resources page online (insert link). Notable changes include updates to the course sequence/professors in the handbook and updated details regarding Praxis Core waivers and travel guidelines in the timeline.
- All 2015 cohort MA/6th-Year and PhD students must apply for the 6th Year program now if you have not already done so.

Upcoming Dates

1/29 & 2/1—Please let us know your availability on these days so we can assign shifts for current students to work. It is essential for interview days to have student volunteers. Thank you all in advance for your help! Sign up here!

“For last year’s words belong to last year’s language /

And next year’s words await another voice.

And to make an end is to make a beginning.”

-T.S. Eliot

Scholarship and Fellowship Opportunities

Trainers of School Psychologists is currently accepting applications for the 2016 Pearson/TSP Graduate Student and Junior Faculty Scholarships! Please review the flyer attached to this email for eligibility and further details and contact carrie.ball@indstate.edu with any questions. Deadline is January 18th.

Terminal Master's students are invited to apply for the APA Minority Fellowship Program's Services for Transition Age Youth (STAY) Fellowship. Applications are due January 15th. More information can be found on the website or in the flyer attached to this email.

The University of South Florida has a few post-doc opportunities available for the upcoming year in the field of PBIS. The school may also be able to support students who have graduated but not yet defended their dissertations. Please see the attached flyer for more information!

Employment and Internship Opportunities

Megan Walsh, the Southington Public Schools Special Education Director, is looking for hourly, daily, or weekly help doing evaluations for pay. This could be done hourly or possibly turned into a GA position or practicum placement if you have experience testing. If you are interested, please call 860-628-3330 and tell Dr. Bray that you have reached out.

Ossining Union Free School District (Ossining, NY) would like to announce 3 anticipated school psychology internship openings (pending budget approval) for the 2016-2017 school year. Ossining UFSD is an ethnically, linguistically, and economically diverse school district 25 miles north of NYC. Please see the attached flyer for more information. Deadline to apply is January 22nd.

Invitation to the 2016 Harvard Student Research Conference

Harvard's Student Research Conference, the country's largest student-run academic conference on education, is now accepting presentation proposals for the 21st annual conference on March 25, 2016. This conference is an excellent opportunity for masters and doctoral candidates in the field of educational research to receive constructive feedback, present research, and learn from peer projects. For more information on how to register to attend or on how to submit a proposal, please visit our website: <http://scholar.harvard.edu/src2016>

If you have any questions about the conference, please do not hesitate to contact our sub-chair, Samantha Herrick: sah259@mail.harvard.edu

We look forward to your submissions,

--Harvard Student Research Conference 2016 Chairs

Have a dissertation defense coming up? Any noteworthy milestones? Do you need to get the word out about something? Let us know so it can be included in the next newsletter!

